What is an efterskole?

"The Danish Efterskole"

The Danish efterskole is an independent, educational and residential institution for students typically aged 14-18, who can choose to spend one, two or three years to finish their upper secondary education. It is in many ways similar to the concept of boarding school, but has rather clear distinctions. The Danish efterskole is based on the idea of combining academic learning with that of general 'life-learning' as a preparatory tool for all aspects of life, as well as facilitating an understanding of 'the individual in a community'.

Solidarity, Community, Unity are key concepts within the Danish efterskole.

Danish Rule of Law

It is written in the "Efterskoleloven" (Danish Rule of Law on Independent Continuation Schools and their activities), under §1, that the primary objective of the efterskole is to ensure enlightenment and democratic culture, as well as offering courses that focus both on educational and personal development as well as the general culture of the students. The Danish efterskole often represents a philosophy of offering such a variety of educational subjects, sports and activities that there is an opportunity for everyone to excel at something, and thus gain an experience and confidence to develop their talents to their own advantage and to the service of others. It is inherent in the culture of many efterskoles that they be a reflection of societal diversity and thus shall offer a variety of opportunities for personal, professional and cultural development.

History and Characteristics of "The Danish Efterskole"

The first efterskole was founded in 1851 by Christen Mikkelsen Kold, who gave inspiration to many Danish Folk High Schools and who was connected to the educational ideas of N.F.S. Grundtvig (1789-1872). Both Kold and Grundtvig wanted schools to provide enlightenment for life rather than formal vocational training.

Freedom of the Efterskole

Compared to public schools the efterskole has substantial freedom in terms of e.g. choice of subjects, teaching methods and educational approach. These vary in accordance with the school's political, religious or pedagogical orientation. Freedom of the efterskole is assured by substantial state subsidies to both schools and students.

Teacher-student relationship

One of the things that are unique about the efterskole is the teacher-student relationship. The teacher is responsible for both teaching and supervision outside of school hours. This means that teachers and students are together all day from the time they wake up until they go to bed. This often engenders a close, personal and non-formal relationship between students and teachers.

Subjects and exams

Most efterskoles offer the same subjects and final assessments as the public schools, but many focuses on special subjects like physical education, music or theatre, or teach an international or bilingual programme.

The Danish Free School System - "Prøve-fri 10. klasse" (Assessment-free 10th grade)

Ranum Efterskole College is an "Assessment-free 10th grade" according to Danish Rule of Law. Students will therefore not be required to take Danish 10th grade assessment in all Danish subjects - just Danish, English and Mathematics FS10 assessment. Students will instead finish all their IGCSEs with exams at the end of May and do assessments in every subject at the end of each term (trimester).

Danish 9th grade students will do Danish 9th grade assessments in May/June along with their IGCSE exam.

As every student at Ranum Efterskole College is a member of an efterskole, we must emphasise that students should be aware that special requirements may apply when applying for further studies in Danish Upper Secondary Education, fx STX, HTX, Gymnasiums and IB. For more information contact International Office at Ranum Efterskole College. International students will complete exams in their 5 chosen IGCSE subjects only.

Number of schools and students

There are more than 280 efterskoles spread across Denmark, mostly in rural areas or near provincial towns. At present approximately 28.500 students attend the schools. Schools vary in size from 25 to 900 students, but most schools have an average of approx. 80-100 students. The number of students has increased considerably within the last 25 years. Ranum Efterskole College is currently the largest general efterskole and third largest in total in the country.

Ethos & Mission

The Tree of Life

- is the logo of Ranum Efterskole College. The tree symbolises the diversity and the broadness of the school. The root and the trunk symbolises the diversity of the community, whilst the circle symbolises the global. Students will experience moving out onto the thin branches, discover- and grab experiences and excitement to bring back to the community. Enjoy your climb!

Global Learning and Beyond

- The slogan for Ranum Efterskole College captures our underlying philosophies of “Inclusive Community and Learning” and “Participatory Democracy” as well as our vision of offering something more than the conventional. It represents our unique combination of the Danish efterskole and the International Cambridge School, and it reflects our approach to global society. Moreover, and to some extent, more importantly, it is a guiding principle for how we conduct ourselves as a school - It shapes our behaviour, informs our decision-making, guides our policy-setting and maintains our focus.

Ethos

The purpose of Ranum Efterskole College is to operate a self-governing, independent international boarding school within the framework of existing rules on private boarding schools in Denmark. This obliges us to provide development for everyone through challenging activities in a safe setting, focusing on both the academic content and the personal well-being. Students are encouraged to maintain a balance between learning and a wide range of extra-curricular subjects and activities, with sporting and cultural achievements valued equally. It is a primary objective to ensure that students develop a healthy and quality-based lifestyle.

Nature-sports and Imagination

Ranum Efterskole has two thematic focuses that supports our approach to learning; Nature-sports are a concatenation of nature experience and sport in nature, in the wild. Nature becomes the learning environment and sports the subject in which the student develops a set of general competencies and skills. Imagination is a general expression for creativity through an imaginative learning. Imagination is an educational process that provides insight into life and puts the contemporaries in relief. The idea behind these focuses is that sports and imagination are seen as a key interface between creativity, art, culture, sports and nature. The school regard this interaction as a training and development process, in which the students ultimately will dare to seek own boundaries and to express themselves as an individual in the community. It requires knowledge, imagination, courage and tolerance to navigate in a complex and ever-changing world. The interaction between nature sports and imagination creates a vibrant and spirited learning environment that can help to provide the individual with the social and academic skills that are needed for success in a dynamic global society.

“Inclusive Community and Learning” and “Participatory Democracy”

We strive to create a framework in which students participate in decision-making, take responsibility for own personalised learning experience and personal development as well as interacting in our community. We believe that in order to prepare and empower our students to the complex and dynamic world, it is a necessity that they live, learn, challenge, experience and push themselves. It is our responsibility to provide the support and encouragement, to create the safe and trustworthy setting, and facilitate a vision of being able. Moreover, we wish to demonstrate to our students what it means to be one among many, what it means to be an individual with own needs and dreams in a larger community and what it means to contribute to society.

Our philosophies on “Inclusive Community and Learning” and “Participatory Democracy” are inherent features in school spirit and agenda. This is particularly evident in students’ opportunities for co-management of extra-curricular activities as it is students’ drive, creativity and imagination that determine subjects, themes, study travels and learning content. We have chosen this approach to inclusiveness, participation and democracy, because we ultimately believe the best way to learn is to experience!

This conversion of our philosophies into practical opportunities for co-management, underlines the uniqueness of Ranum Efterskole College – it is one of the most prominent features that distinguishes us from all other schools.

Motto: 'Non Videra Son Esse – Not to seem, but to Be'

We regard it our prime responsibility to ensure that our students become competent, confident and open-minded global citizens. We empower our students through our community to take charge of their personal and intellectual development, we encourage them to challenge their fears and facilitate their dreams, and we establish lifelong friendships and networks. We believe, that through inclusiveness and learning, that students after their stay here at Ranum Efterskole College, will dare to Be, rather than to Seem.
